The Levitating Shoe

Background Of Invention

In the world of magic anything is possible, through out history it has provided a key for opening doors to do almost anything that would seem impossible to do. From card and coin tricks to mind bending instruments, they all possess the very required elements of illusion which is a way of tricking the watching eye into believing something that isn't. Levitation the illusion of a person or otherwise floating off the ground has always ranked high in capturing the amazement of the watching eye in the field of magic. Providing the levitating effect of a person rising or floating above the ground is no easy task. Up until now there has been little mechanical
